

Acupuncture Clinic Charlottetown

Acupuncture Clinic Charlottetown - Therapy using magnets and the magnetic field that surrounds living things is a kind of alternative or complementary medicine. Likewise called magnotherapy, magnet therapy or magneto-therapy, electromagnetic devices or permanent static magnets are placed onto the bodies of client by practitioners.

Different health benefits are purported by magnetic therapy advocates. Even though there is no scientific evidence to back these claims, some of the supposed benefits comprise accelerated healing of wounds, increased vitality and increased energy. Some practitioners believe that different health benefits can be obtained based on where the magnet is placed on the body.

There are several believers and practitioners of magnetic therapy who believe that without making use of the magnets, individuals could go through a general feeling of discomfort, illness, and unease, or that these individuals are prone to suffer from malaise. These practitioners define malaise as "Magnetic Field Deficiency Syndrome," however; a lot of experts deny the validity of this particular condition. A large number of doctors of medicine and health experts totally deny the effectiveness of magnetic therapy all together.

Magnetic therapy is supposed to increase overall health benefits by improving and working with the circulatory system. The blood protein which carries oxygen is called hemoglobin and it is weakly diamagnetic. This means that hemoglobin can create a magnetic field in opposition to a magnetic field applied externally. Nevertheless, it is said that the magnets that are used in magnetic therapy and in the products related are very weak to have whatever affect whatsoever on the circulatory system or the blood circulation inside the body.

There are lots of individuals who undergo or practice therapy, even though there is little to no proof supporting this particular form of therapy. Some people think that magnetic therapy operates by way of a placebo effect, meaning those who participate in magnetic therapy only feel healthier and stronger and happier in view of the fact that they have been told that the particular therapy will provide them with health benefits.

Nearly the whole industry is based on the sale of products to which the consumer could have on. There are many magnetic products available. Products consist of everything from magnetic mattresses, water that has been magnetized, blankets woven together with magnetic materials, magnetic straps which are designed to fit around the wrists, midsection and ankles; magnetic shoe insoles as well as different types of magnetic jewelry, specially bracelets.
